

Immunizations

Community Health Services gives immunizations to prevent a variety of illnesses and disease. Immunizations for such diseases as measles, polio, mumps, rubella, pertussis, diphtheria, tetanus, varicella, hepatitis B, hepatitis A and bacterial meningitis are available to all eligible individuals. CHS gives influenza vaccinations during the flu season. CHS offices can provide information about the recommended adult, adolescent, and childhood immunizations.